

Family Planning engages communities

They are Barangay Health Workers. They are also mothers and daughters. Their stories are our data, their health, our baseline, their children, our concern, their sustainable future, our success.

